

10/562200

AP20 Rec'd PCT/PTO 09 JUN 2006

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

The disclosure relates to a radiocommunications device capable of operating on at least two emission frequency bands and at least two reception frequency bands, comprising first means for carrying out communications according to a first predetermined standard. The device also comprises second means for carrying out communications according to a second predetermined standard while using, at least in part, at least one of these frequency bands.